

The St. Albert Community Foundation distributed grants to 15 local organizations during a presentation event on Wednesday, Dec. 14 at Red Willow Place.

Community Foundation Gives Back

The St. Albert Community Foundation presented grants to 15 local organizations on Wednesday, Dec. 14 at Red Willow Place. In 2022, the foundation will have distributed $250,000 through 26 community grants, scholarships and donor-directed funds. The 15 organizations receiving money at the event included: the Big Lake Environment Support Society (BLESS), ElderDog Canada, Jessica Martel Memorial Foundation, Kaleo Collective Ltd., Outloud St. Albert, Project Adult Literacy Society (PALS), Royal Alexandra Hospital Foundation, St. Albert Family Resource Centre, St. Albert Food Bank and Community Village, St. Albert Public Library, St. Albert Sturgeon Hospice Association, STAR Literacy, Stop Abuse In Family (SAIF), Sturgeon Community Hospital Foundation and Transitions Rehabilitation Association

Photos by Walter Tychnowicz

Stephanie Foremsky (left) and Julie Ruel of the Public Library, Community Foundation president Doug Campbell, and Kelsey Robbins of Outloud St. Albert enjoy the event.

Roy Fenton, left, and Grant McCurdy

Doug Campbell, president of the St. Albert Community Foundation, speaks during the event.

Above: Kaleo Collective founder Layna Haley speaks at the presentation event. Kaleo Collective runs programs for single mothers.

Left: Marla Poelzer from the Jessica Martel Memorial Foundation addresses the crowd. The foundation provides supports and shelter for families and individuals navigating abuse.

In 2022, the St. Albert Community Foundation will have distributed $250,000 through 26 community grants, scholarships and donor-directed funds.